

Employability skills training workshops

The LWA Student Union in collaboration with Faculty Departments and Employers will be running a number of employability skills training workshops throughout the year. All workshops have been designed to plug skills gaps that we see again and again when students and graduates are applying for jobs. Please take advantage of these free workshops and come and meet the Team.

Supporting material for all workshops will be freely available based on our experience of working with graduate employers. Please your places early onto the workshops - they include a mix of lecture, group activity and discussion. We will try and give feedback to all students that attend our workshops. On occasion we will invite external employers and organisations to run relevant free training for all students.

Here is a sample of workshops on offer:

- Networking
- CV Writing
- Brand & Using Social Media
- Interview and Application Forms
- Psychometric Test Workshops

A certificate of Attendance after you have attended one of our workshops that you can use in your employability modules, including PDP, PPD and the Employability will be issued to you.

See notice board on:

How to find out about dates, times, venues and booking.

Alternatively, please consult the Students' Union through their e-mail studentunion@waterlooademy.co.uk

